Genus GRAPHOMYA Robineau-Desvoidy

GRAPHOMYA Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830, Mém. prés. div. Sav. Acad. Sci. Inst. Fr., 2: 403. Type-species: Musca maculata Scopoli, 1763, the first of 5 species, by subsequent designation of Duponchel in d'Orbigny, 1845, Dict. univ. Hist. Nat., 6: 305 (see Evenhuis & Thompson, 1990: 236).

[The designation by Westwood (1840, Introd. Mod. Class. Ins., Synop. Gen.: 141) is invalid because he writes: "M. maculata Fab., and med-itabunda F. Pz. 44. 23., is the type of Graphomyia R.D.". Despite the punctuation, the singular verb and the clear implication that *med-*itabunda sensu Panzer is the same as maculata, this does not clearly restrict the designation to one name. In fact, Panzer's illustration of meditabunda shows a yellow-legged species that is neither maculata nor the true meditabunda.]

GENDER: feminine.

GRAPHOMYIA, unjustified emendation of Graphomyia [Macquart, 1834, Hist. Nat. Ins. Dipt., 1: 134].

CURTONEVRA Macquart, 1834, Mém. Soc. Sci. Agric. Lille, 1833: 146. Type-species: Musca maculata Scopoli, 1763, the 9th of 12 species, by subsequent designation of Westwood (1840, Introd. Mod. Class. Ins., Synop. Gen.: 141).

[Rondani (1856, Dipt. Ital. Prodr., 1: 91) incorrectly gives Musca pas-cuorum Meigen, 1826, as the type-species. Brauer (1893, Verh. zool.-bot. Ges. Wien, 43 (4): 508) incorrectly gives Cyrtoneura podagrica Loew, 1857, as the type-species.]

GENDER: feminine.

CYRTONEURA, unjustified emendation of Cyrtoneura [Meigen, 1838, Syst. Besch. eur. zwfl. Ins., 7: 291, 309, 420, as "Cyrtoneura (Curtoneura ist eine Sprach-unrichtigkeit)"] (see Evenhuis & Pape, 2019: 63).

- confluens* Stein, 1920, Tijdschr. Ent., 62 [1919], Suppl.: 42 (♂; Graphomyia). Provisional name for a ♂ of rufiventris from Ceram, should this ♂ prove to be distinct from rufiventris ♀ from Simalur [Simeulue]. Type-locality: “Ceram” [INDONESIA, Seram, iv–vi.1910; collector Van Dedem]. Type-depository: Holotype ♂, RMNH [Pont, 1968b: 169, 172–173; Pont, 1970a: 83; Pont & Werner, 2006: 92; Pont, 2013b: 64].

[As pointed out by Pont (1968b: 172–173), the name rufiventris was made available by Stein (1919b: 201) in his key to males, and in a footnote Seram was given as the locality. Stein (1920a: 41) then formally described rufiventris as a new species from 1 ♀ from Simeulue, and mentioned a ♂ from Seram which, if different, should be called confluens. Stein (1920b: 76) again formally described rufiventris as a new species, from the Seram ♂. His original intention (1919b) was evidently for the Seram ♂ to be the type of rufiventris, and confluens, based on the same specimen, is a junior objective synonym. The Seram ♂ is in RMNH; the Simeulue ♀ is in ZMHB. See Pont & Werner (2006a: 92).]

Genus GYMNODIA Robineau-Desvoidy

GYMNODIA Robineau-Desvoidy, 1863, Hist. nat. Dipt. Env. Paris, 2: 635. Type-species: Gymnodia pratensis Robineau-Desvoidy, 1863 [= Anthomyia polystigma Meigen, 1826], by monotypy.
GENDER: feminine.

CYMNODIA Robineau-Desvoidy, 1863, Hist. nat. Dipt. Env. Paris, 2: 883 [incorrect original spelling]. [First Reviser, Evenhuis, O’Hara, Pape & Pont, 2010: 61.]

BRONTAEA Kowarz, 1873, Verh. zool.-bot. Ges. Wien, 23: 461. Type-species: Anthomyia polystigma Meigen, 1826, the first of two species, by subsequent designation of Coquillett, 1910, Proc. U.S. natn. Mus., 37: 516.

[Mentioned in a list as “Brontaea polystigma Mg.” with a footnote that it is a new genus: “Meigens Anthomyia polystigma passt in keine der bisher errichteten Anthomyiden-Gattungen; Herr Dr Löw hat sie in seiner Sammlung mit A. tonitru Wiedem. und anderen dieser verwandten Arten zur Gattung Brontaea vereinigt.” Many authors have treated it as an unavailable name, but its citation in combination with a named species fulfils the criterion of availability (Code, 16 a v).]

GENDER: feminine.

BRACHIOPHYRA Giglio-Tos, 1893, Boll. Musei Zool. Anat. comp. R. Univ. Torino, 8 no. 147: 9. Type-species: Brachiophyra effrons Giglio-Tos, 1893 [= Limnophora normata Bigot, 1885], by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

ANACLYSTA Brauer & Bergenstamm, 1894, Denkschr. Akad. Wiss., Wien, 61: 622. Type-species: Anaclysta eremophila Brauer & Bergenstamm, 1894, by original designation.

[Described as “Anaclysta Loew. M.C. litt. type eremophila Lw. Egypten.”, followed by descriptive notes. This is a perfectly valid description in the sense of the Code, and neither genus nor species should be listed as nomina nuda as they frequently have been.]

GENDER: feminine.

BRACHYOPHYRA, incorrect subsequent spelling [e.g. Giglio-Tos, 1895b, Memorie Accad. Sci. Torino (2), 45: 26; Wulp, 1896, Biol. Centr.-Amer., Dipt. 2 [131]: 313, and 2 [132]: 324].

BRONTEA, incorrect subsequent spelling of Brontaea [Schnabl, 1911, Dt. ent. Z., 1911 (1): 92; Schnabl & Dziedzicki, 1911, Nova Acta Acad. Caesar. Leop. Carol., 95 (2): 141, 149]. In both papers as a subgenus of Limnophora Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830. Schnabl, p. 92, gave it simply in the statement “L. (Subg. Brontea) polystigma Mg.”. Schnabl & Dziedzicki, p. 141, 149, cite it as “Brontea Lw. in litt. Kow.”, corrected on p. 356 to “Lw. in litt. Schnabl”; Séguy (1937, Genera Insect., 205: 252) unnecessarily designated Anthomyia polystigma Meigen, 1826, as the type-species.).

ANACLYSTA Stein, 1919, Arch. Naturgesch., 83 A 1 [1917]: 90 (key), and 138. Type-species: Limnophora multipunctata Stein in Becker, 1903 [= Anaclysta eremophila Brauer & Bergenstamm, 1894], the third of four included species, by subsequent designation of Malloch, 1923, Proc. Linn. Soc. N.S.W., 48: 601. [Junior homonym, preocc. by Anaclysta Brauer & Bergenstamm, 1894: Diptera, Muscidae.]

[Stein described this as a new genus (Loew in litt.) as he considered Brauer & Bergenstamm’s description to be unavailable. An invalid type-species designation of Limnophora piliceps Stein, 1913, was made by Curran (1937, Am. Mus. Novit., 931: 13).]

GENDER: feminine.

EULIMNOPHORA Malloch, 1920, Trans. Am. ent. Soc., 46 (2): 145. Type-species: Limnophora arcuata Stein, 1898 [= Anthomyia delecta Wulp, 1896], by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

ANTIPODOMYIA Malloch, 1921, Ann. Mag. nat. Hist. (9), 7: 429. Type-species: Antipodomyia bancrofti Malloch, 1921 [= Limnophora subtilis Stein, 1909], by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

smithii Hutton, 1901, Trans. N. Z. Inst., 33 [1900]: 77 (♂♀; Coenosia). Type-locality: “Ashburton (W.W. Smith)” [NEW ZEALAND]. Type-depository: Syntypes ♂♀, ?CMNZ [“type ♀” seen by Malloch, 1930c: 302]. Distribution: Australasian – New Zealand.

spinipes Walker, 1849, List Dipt. Brit. Mus., 4: 969 (♂; Caenosia; as “spinipes, White, Zool. Voy. Erebus and Terror”). Type-locality: “New Zealand” [NEW ZEALAND]. Type-depository: Holotype ♂, BMNH [Stein, 1901: 209]. Distribution: Australasian – New Zealand.

[No species of this name is mentioned in White’s report on the Diptera collected by the “Erebus & Terror” (White, 1846).]

uniformis Malloch, 1930, Rec. Canterbury Mus., 3 (5): 295 (key), and 299, fig. 2 (♂ fore claw) (♂♀; Limnophora). Type-locality: "Nelson, September 29th, 1922 (A. Tonnoir)" [NEW ZEALAND]. Type-depository: Holotype ♀, CMNZ. Distribution: Australasian – New Zealand.

Genus LIMNOPHORA Robineau-Desvoidy

LIMNOPHORA Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830, Mém. prés. div. Sav. Acad. Sci. Inst. Fr., 2: 517. Type-species: Limnophora palustris Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830 [= Anthomyia maculosa Meigen, 1826], the second of 20 species, by subsequent designation of Coquillett, 1910, Proc. U.S. natn. Mus., 37: 561.

[Invalid type-species designations are of Anthomyia compuncta Wiedemann, 1817 (now in Helina Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830), by Westwood, 1840, Introd. Mod. Class Ins., Synop. Gen.: 142; of Musca consimilis Fallén, 1825 (now in Helina Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830), by Rondani, 1856, Dipt. Ital. Prodr., 1: 97; and of Musca notata Fallén, 1823, by Karl, 1928, Tierwelt Dtl., 13: 94 (as "typische Art").]

GENDER: feminine.

CUCULLA Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830, Mém. prés. div. Sav. Acad. Sci. Inst. Fr., 2: 523. [Junior homonym, preocc. by Cuculla Seba, 1761: Mollusca.] Type-species: Cuculla cinerea Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830 [= Musca triangula Fallén, 1825], the first of 3 species, by subsequent designation of Séguy, 1937, Genera Insect., 205: 253.

GENDER: feminine.

MICROCHYLUM Macquart, 1851, Mém. Soc. Sci. Agric. Lille, 1850: 229; Dipt. Exot., Suppl. 4: 256. Type-species: Microchylum vittatum Macquart, 1851, by original designation.

GENDER: neuter.

LEUCOMELINA Macquart, 1851, Mém. Soc. Sci. Agric. Lille, 1850: 234; Dipt. Exot., Suppl. 4: 261. Type-species: Leucomelina pica Macquart, 1851, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

MELANOCHELIA Rondani, 1866, Atti Soc. ital. Sci. nat., 9: 72 and 136. Type-species: Aricia surda Zetterstedt, 1845 [misidentification], by original designation.

[Note: Rondani's series of Limnophora surda (Zetterstedt) (studied in MZUF) actually consists of Limnophora setinerva Schnabl (1♂), Limnophora pollinifrons Stein (3♂ 1♀), and Limnophora riparia (Fallén) (1♀).]

GENDER: feminine.

LYMNOPHORA, incorrect subsequent spelling of Limnophora [e.g. Rondani, 1866, Atti Soc. ital. Sci. nat., 9: 193].

MELANOCHIELA, incorrect subsequent spelling [e.g. Rondani, 1871, Bull. Soc. ent. ital., 2 (4): 324].

PSEUDOLIMNOPHORA Strobl, 1893, Verh. zool.-bot. Ges. Wien, 43 (2): 272. As a "section" (subgenus) of Coenosia Meigen, 1826. Type-species: Musca triangula Fallén, 1825, the first of 6 species, by subsequent designation of Coquillett, 1901, JI N.Y. ent. Soc., 9 (3): 140.

GENDER: feminine.

STROBLIA Pokorný, 1893, Verh. zool.-bot. Ges. Wien, 43 (4): 541. Type-species: Musca triangula Fallén, 1825, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

CALLIOPHRYS Kowarz, 1893, Wien. ent. Ztg, 12 (2): 49. Type-species: Musca riparia Fallén, 1824, the second of 3 species, by subsequent designation of Séguy, 1937, Genera Insect., 205: 253.

[Note: Kowarz actually wrote “Unter der Voraussetzung, dass Melanocheilia riparia Rd. ... von Musca riparia Fl. wirklich verschieden ist, habe ich die mit letzterer nächst verwandten, mir bis nun bekannt gewordenen Arten mit dem neuen Gattungsnamen Calliophrys ... belegt.” This cannot be construed as monotypy (as given by e.g. Hennig, 1959d, Fliegen palaearkt. Reg., 63b: 384), especially as three species were originally included (pulchriceps Loew, riparia Fallén, exuta sp.n.).]

[The genus was not listed by Coquillett (1901, JI N.Y. ent. Soc., 9 (3); 1910, Proc. U.S. natn. Mus., 37). Karl (1928, Tierwelt Dtl., 13: 93) gave exuta Kowarz as “typische Art”, but in the sense of the Code this is not a valid type-species designation (see also Hockett, 1932a, JI N.Y. ent. Soc., 40 (1): 30, footnote).]

GENDER: feminine.

MELANOCHILA, incorrect subsequent spelling [e.g. Verrall, 1901, List Brit. Dipt., Ed. 2: 28].

LIMNOPHORITES Schnabl & Dziedzicki, 1911, Nova Acta Acad. Caesar. Leop. Carol., 95 (2): 151 (as a subgenus of Limnophora Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830). Type-species: Limnophora setinerva Schnabl in Schnabl & Dziedzicki, 1911, by monotypy.

GENDER: feminine.

MELLINOCHILIA, incorrect subsequent spelling [e.g. Schnabl, 1911, Trudy russk. ént. Obshch., 39 [1910]: 108].

BUCEPHALOMYIA Malloch, 1918, Trans. Am. ent. Soc., 44 (3): 264 (key), and 273. Type-species: Tetramerinx femorata Malloch, 1913, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

ONYCHOMYIA Stein, 1919, Arch. Naturgesch., 83 A 1 [1917]: 100 (key), and 138. Type-species: Onychomyia approximatinervis Stein, 1919, by monotypy.

GENDER: feminine.

EMMESINA Malloch, 1921, Ann. Mag. nat. Hist. (9), 8: 423. Type-species: Emmesina anandalei Malloch, 1921, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

LIMNINA Malloch, 1928, Proc. Linn. Soc. N.S.W., 53 (4): 327. Type-species: Limnina elongata Malloch, 1928, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

APISIA Séguy, 1950, Mém. Inst. fr. Afr. noire, 10: 279. Type-species: Apisia stragula Séguy, 1950, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

RHEAMYIA Séguy, 1950, Mém. Inst. fr. Afr. noire, 10: 280. Type-species: Rheamyia alutia Séguy, 1950 [= Hylemyia quaterna Loew, 1852], by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

Genus LISPE Latreille

LISPE Latreille, [1797], Précis caract. génér. ins.: 169. [Without included species.] Type-species: Musca tentaculata De Geer, 1776, by subsequent monotypy (Latreille, 1802, Hist. nat. Crust. Ins., 3: 462).

[Note: In 1802 Latreille placed tentaculata in Lispe, whilst in the same year Walckenaer (Faune Paris. Ins., 2: 392) transferred seven species to Lispa: meridiana, carnaria, domestica, caesar, cadaverina, vomitatoria, vulpina.]

[Note that “Lispe” was used by Latreille both as a vernacular name and a scientific name. In 1797 he wrote: “G. XXXI. * LISPE. LISPE.”, which was followed by “G. XXXII. * PHORE. PHORA.”. In 1802 he wrote: “* Genre. LISPE; lispe.”. The next taxon in his account is: *Genre. OCHTHÈRE: ochthera.”.]

GENDER: feminine.

LISPA, unjustified emendation of Lispe [Walckenaer, 1802, Faune Paris. Ins., 2: 392].

MYODA Lamarck, 1816, Hist. nat. Anim. sans Vertèbres, 3: 365. Type-species: Musca tentaculata De Geer, 1776, the first of 8 species, by subsequent designation of Coquillett (1901, JI N.Y. ent. Soc., 9 (3): 139).

[Hennig (1960a, Fliegen palaearkt. Reg., 63b: 400) also (unnecessarily) designated Musca tentaculata De Geer as type-species of Myoda.]

GENDER: feminine.

LIPSE, incorrect subsequent spelling of Lispe [e.g. Leach, 1817, Edinb. Encycl., 12: 161].

XENOLISPA Malloch, 1922, Ann. Mag. nat. Hist. (9), 9: 279 (as a subgenus of Lispa [sic] Latreille, 1797). Type-species: Lispa (Xenolispa) atrifrontata Malloch, 1922 [= Lispe sydneyensis Schiner, 1868], by original designation.

[Curran (1937, Am. Mus. Novit., 931: 8) gave an incorrect reference to the original description and then proceeded to designate (incorrectly) Coenosia pumila Wiedemann, 1824, as type-species.]

GENDER: feminine.

CHAETOLISPA Malloch, 1922, Ann. Mag. nat. Hist. (9), 10: 386. Type-species: Lispa geniseta Stein, 1909, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

COENOLISPA Malloch, 1932, Bull. Bernice P. Bishop Mus., 98: 194. Type-species: Coenolispa erratica Malloch, 1932, by original designation.

GENDER: feminine.

schmusei Schnabl, 1902, Z. syst. Hymenopt. Dipterol., 2 (6): inside back cover to Heft 6 (♀; Neolimnophora). [Only the name is proposed here; the full description, as Neolimnophora maritima ♀, was in Z. syst. Hymenopt. Dipterol., 2 (2): 94.] Type-locality: Norderney and Borkum [GERMANY] [Hennig (1959d: 366) considered that Schnabl actually saw specimens only from Borkum]. Type-depository: Syntypes ♀♀, formerly in MZPW, Schnabl collection [destroyed 1945].

[NOTE: On the inside back cover of Heft 6, Schnabl suggests that his ♂ and ♀ of maritima (op. cit., 2 (2): 194) are not the same species and that the ♀ is a new species N. schmusei. In the corrigenda to the volume he synonymised schmusei with N. aestuum Villeneuve. Collin (1921b: 97) took it that schmusei was in fact only maritima. Hennig (1959d: 365) thought that it could maritima or aestuum. In ACP’s view, Schnabl’s description can only refer to maritima, particularly the upcurved vein M_{1+2} (in aestuum, veins R_{4+5} and M_{1+2} are divergent).]

candicans Villeneuve, 1906, Wien. ent. Ztg, 25 (1): 28, figs 1–2 (♂ head lateral, ♀ frons dorsal) (♂♀; Limnophora). Type-locality: “Cette espèce était très commune au mois de juillet 1904; le ♂ plutôt rare” [FRANCE, on the Mediterranean coast at Palavas, near Montpellier]. Type-depository: Syntypes 3♂ 5♀, RBINS (Villeneuve collection); 3♀, SDEI [Hennig, 1959d: 365; Rohlfien & Ewald, 1974: 113; Pont & Werner, 2006: 32]; 2♀, MSNM [seen]; 2♀, MNHN [seen]; 1 ex, NMBA [Morge, 1974g: 317]; 1♀, ZMHB [Pont & Werner, 2006: 32; Couri & Pont, 2020b: 34, figs 125–128].

leucophaeata Ségué, 1952, Boll. Soc. veneziana Stor. nat., 6 (1): 95, fig. 1 (♂ head lateral) (♂; Hylephila). Type-locality: “Lagune de Venise – Barena Vignole, 13–VII–44, (A.G. Soika)” [ITALY, Venice]. Type-depository: Holotype ♂, MNHN [seen].

virgo Villeneuve, 1906, Wien. ent. Ztg, 25 (1): 30 (♂♀; Limnophora). Type-locality: “Avec le précédente [candicans], mais moins commune; en outre, pour plusieurs ♀, je n’ai rencontré qu’un ♂” [FRANCE, on the Mediterranean coast at Palavas, near Montpellier]. Type-depository: Syntypes 1♂ 8♀, RBINS, Villeneuve collection, and 1♀, ZMHB [Hennig, 1959d: 367; Pont & Werner, 2006: 111; Couri & Pont, 2020b: 34, figs 129–132]. Distribution: Palearctic – Egypt, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Morocco, Netherlands, Spain, Tunisia.

Genus OCYPODOMYIA Pont

Hist. nat., 3 (27): 172 [see Evenhuis & Thompson, 1990: 234].

[Coquillett (1901, JI N.Y. ent. Soc., 9 (3): 135) stated that Rondani (1856, Dipt. Ital. Prodr., 1: 98) gave vulgaris (Robineau-Desvoidy's fourth species) as a synonym of tigrina Fabricius, but this is not so.]

[Unnecessary subsequent designations of type-species include Musca tigrina Fabricius (Rondani, 1856, Dipt. Ital. Prodr., 1: 98, invalid; validly designated in Rondani, 1866, Atti Soc. ital. Sci. nat., 9: 76, 208, where tigrina with the synonym communis is cited); Caricea erythro-cera Robineau-Desvoidy (Stein, 1908a, Wien. ent. Ztg., 27 (1): 11); and Caricea communis Robineau-Desvoidy (Schnabl & Dziedzicki, 1911, Nova Acta Acad. Caesar. Leop. Carol., 95 (2): 75; Hennig, 1961a, Fliegen palaearkt. Reg., 63b: 519).]

[Snyder (1949, Bull. Am. Mus. nat. Hist., 94 (3): 113) stated that Schnabl (1890) designated communis = anceps [i.e. Helina confinis Fallén] as genotype of Caricea; however, in this paper (actually Schnabl, 1889b, Hor. Soc. ent. ross., 24 (1–2)) Schnabl makes no mention of a type-species for Caricea.]

Type-depository: Holotype ♂, IAVH. Distribution: Neotropical – Colombia.

Genus TENUICOSTA Stein

TENUICOSTA Stein, 1919, Arch. Naturgesch., 83 A 1 [1917]: 100 (key), and 156. Type-species: Allognota nova Stein, 1906, by monotypy.

GENDER: feminine.

hairya Zielke, 2025, Entomologist's mon. Mag., 161 (2): 86, figs 1–16 (♂♀ habitus, head, scutum, legs and abdomen) (♂♀; Tenuicosta). Type-locality: “Madagascar: 1530 m, Ambohitantely Spec. Res., 19.iv.2011, local collectors” [MADAGASCAR]. Type-depository: Holotype ♂. MMBC. Distribution: Afrotropical – Madagascar.

nova Stein, 1906, Berl. ent. Z., 51 (1): 75 (♀; Allognota). Type-locality: “2♀ aus Antananarivo (Sikora)” [MADAGASCAR]. Type-depository: Syntypes 2♀, ZMHB [Pont & Werner, 2006: 74; Pont, 2013b: 94; Couri & Pont, 2020a: 31, figs 61–64; Zielke, 2025a: 86]. Distribution: Afrotropical – Madagascar.

SPECIES REMOVED FROM MUSCIDAE

The list below includes names that were originally described in Muscidae or at one time were thought to be in Muscidae, but have since been removed to other families.

albimana Loew, 1858a: 9 (Coenosia) = Chirosia albitarsis (Zetterstedt, 1845). ANTHOMYIIDAE.

albipalpis Meigen, 1826: 218 (Coenosia). Unplaced in SCATHOPHAGIDAE.

ambulans Müller, 1776: 177 (Musca). Listed by Hennig (1956: 111) as a questionable synonym of Azelia triquetra (Wiedemann, 1817) but evidently not a muscid. Unplaced in DIPTERA.

andina Bigot, 1885: 304 (Ophyra) = Lonchaea andina (Bigot). LONCHAEIDAE.

cadaverum Kirby, 1837: 316 (?sex; Musca). Type-locality: "A single specimen taken in Lat. 65°" [CANADA]. Type-depositary: Holotype, depositary not known and presumed destroyed. CALLIPHORIDAE.

[This greenbottle fly has yellow palpi, and must therefore be a calliphorid, not a muscid.]

cytorus Walker, 1849: 1160 (Stomoxys) = Prosenoides cytorus (Walker). TACHINIDAE.

dorsalis Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830: 593 (Azelia). Unplaced in ANTHOMYIIDAE.

dubia Macquart, 1835: 346 (Caenosia) = Anthomyia monilis (Meigen, 1826). ANTHOMYIIDAE.

dubia Curtis in Ross, 1835, Narrative of a Second Voyage in Search of a North-West Passage, [Appendix] Nat. Hist.: lxxix (?♀; Anthomyia). Type-locality: not stated [from title: Arctic Canada; Boothia Peninsula, Nunavut, according to Hockett (1965b: 915)]. Type-depositary: Syntypes 2 ex., depositary not known, not in MVMA, and presumed destroyed [Pont, 2003: 32]. ANTHOMYIIDAE.

[This is most likely a species of Anthomyiidae. "Cinereous, eyes margined with white, thorax with three fuscous stripes ... Grey-ash colour, sparingly pilose; antennae with the basal joint minute, the second subtrigonal, third scarcely longer and oblong; eyes reddish-brown, face dull shining white, crown of head ash colour; thorax with three fuscous stripes down the back, and an indistinct one on each side; wings rather broad, iridescent, the nervures and legs black.".]

favillacea Walker, 1860: 135 (Musca) = Bengalia ieiuna (Fabricius, 1787). CALLIPHORIDAE.

flavipes Lamb, 1909: 134 (Calliphora) = Xenocalliphora flavipes (Lamb). CALLIPHORIDAE.

guttata Wiedemann, 1830: 442 (Coenosia) = Campiglossa guttata (Wiedemann). TEPHRITIDAE.

humeralis Walker, 1836: 348 (Stomoxys) = Toxotarsus humeralis (Walker). CALLIPHORIDAE.

keironi Risso, 1812, Mem. Soc. Agric. Torino, 9: 55 (?sex; Stomoxys). Type-locality: "Département des Alpes Maritimes" [ex title; FRANCE, probably Nice area]. Type-depositary: not stated. TEPHRITIDAE.

[This fly attacks olives and the name is evidently a junior synonym of Bactrocera oleae (Rossi, 1790) (Tephritidae).]

keironi Angelini, 1825, Bibl. Ital., 39: 381 (?sex; Stomoxys). [Junior primary homonym of keironi Risso, 1812] Type-locality: France. Type-depositary: not stated.

kempi Brunetti, 1913: 172 (Limnophora) = Adia cinerella (Fallén, 1825). ANTHOMYIIDAE.

lestremensis Bigot, 1885: 292 (Lispa) = Ceratinostoma ostiorum (Curtis, 1832). SCATHOPHAGIDAE.

macquarti Lioy, 1864: 997 (Eriostyla). Nomen nudum in ANTHOMYIIDAE.

mallochi Curran, 1934: 468 (Darwinomyia) = Phaonantho mallochi (Curran). ANTHOMYIIDAE.

- mediteroides* Walker, 1862: 21 (Limnophora). Nomen nudum. Probably a chloropid. Unplaced in CHLOROPIDAE.
- minima* Meigen, 1826: 217 (Coenosia). Unplaced in PIOPHILIDAE.
- nitens* Bigot, 1885: 283 (Lasiops) = Lonchaea nitens (Bigot). LONCHAEIDAE.
- ochricornis* Wiedemann, 1830: 408 (Musca) = Lucilia eximia (Wiedemann, 1819). CALLIPHORIDAE.
- pallida* Say, 1829: 175 (?sex; Mesembrina). Type-locality: “Indiana” [USA, Indiana]. Type-depository: Holotype, depository not known and presumed destroyed. Unplaced ACALYPTRATAE.
[“Honey-yellowish; wing nervures margined ... Body dull honey-yellowish: head pale yellow: front with a reddish-brown vitta: antennae very short, hardly half as long as the hypostoma, terminal joint oval: nervures margined with brownish: pectus, pleura and feet paler.” 2/5 of an inch. Not a species of Muscidae, and most likely a large pale acalyptrate.]
- picipes* Meigen, 1826: 178 (Anthomyia) = Lasiomma picipes (Meigen). ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- punctipes* Meigen, 1826: 220 (Coenosia) = Cleigastra punctipes (Meigen) (teste Stein, 1900c: 155), not to be confused with punctipes Meigen, 1826: 239 (Cordylura) = Chaetosa punctipes (Meigen). Both in SCATHOPHAGIDAE.
- pusilla* Macquart, 1848: 219 (Musca) = Tricharaea lopesi Thompson & Pont, 1994. SARCOPOPHAGIDAE.
- rectinevis* Macquart, 1855: 111 (Lucilia) = Hemipyrellia ligurriens (Wiedemann, 1830). CALLIPHORIDAE.
- rufifrons* Meigen, 1838: 338 (Dialyta). Unplaced in SCATHOPHAGIDAE.
libralis Meigen in Morge, 1975: 454 (Dialyta). [Unavailable name]; unplaced in SCATHOPHAGIDAE.
- setosa* Giebel, 1862: 319 (Eriphia) = Campylocera setosa (Giebel). Holocene copal. PYRGOTIDAE.
- signata* Walker, 1859: 142 (Caenosia). Unplaced in LAUXANIIDAE.
- spinosa* Walker, 1849: 967 (Caenosia) = Zaphne ambigua (Fallén, 1823). ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- stackelbergi* Lavčiev, 1971: 221 (Pogonomyia) = Hydrophoria stackelbergi (Lavčiev) ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- tahitiensis* Lichtenstein, 1796: 215 (Musca). Locality: Society Islands [FRENCH POLYNESIA]. Depository: Specimens destroyed. [Unavailable name; this work was suppressed by action of ICZN (1995, Bull. Zool. Nom., 52: 283-285).] Unplaced DIPTERA.
[“321. Musca Tahitiensis; nobis. Musca testacea, alis obscuris, macula fusca. Habitat in Otahiti.” Most unlikely to be a species of Muscidae.]
- testacea* Gimmerthal, 1834a: 113 (Coenosia) = Mycophaga testacea (Gimmerthal). ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- tricincta* Loew, 1870a: 177 (Coenosia) = Synchysa tricincta (Loew). SCATHOPHAGIDAE.
- tricolor* Walker, 1853a: 358 (Anthomyia) = Emmesomyia tricolor (Walker). ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- unicolor* Brullé, 1833: 318 (Lispa). Unplaced in ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- varensis* Robineau-Desvoidy, 1863: 627 (Musca). Unplaced in CALLIPHORIDAE.
- vernalis* Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830: 594 (Azelia). Unplaced in ANTHOMYIIDAE.
- vespasianus* Curtiss, 1938: 157 (Musca). Type-locality: Tahiti, Society Islands [FRENCH POLYNESIA]. Type-depository: Holotype/syntypes, sex not stated, lost or destroyed. Unplaced species. Unplaced ACALYPTRATAE.
[A small green fly. Not a species of Muscidae and most likely to be an acalyptrate.]

[For dating, see Evenhuis (1997: 495). Osten Sacken (1903) bitterly reproached Loew for not writing an introductory “first supplementary volume” and went on to say that Loew was incapable of such a synoptic and comprehensive work. This latter remark may be a justified reproach, but the first part is certainly unfair: Meigen called the final volume 7 of his Systematische Beschreibung the “first supplementary volume”, and so it was quite correct for Loew to call his volume 8 the “second supplementary volume”.]

- [No exact date of publication was given. “Eingegangnen bei der Akademie am 12. Dezember 1910.” The BMNH copy of the journal was received 25.vi.1912. In the corrections on page 356 (under p. [107] 159), Schnabl mentions specimens collected in July 1911, so the work can only have been in proof stage in the late summer of 1911 and cannot have appeared until late 1911 at the earliest. Although not stated, it is clear that Schnabl wrote the text of this work and that his brother-in-law Henryk Dziedzicki (1847–1921) made all the drawings. The question of authorship of the new taxa therefore arises. In the list of contents and in the text itself itself, the new genera are all ascribed to Schnabl & Dziedzicki, and are thus credited with joint authorship. With the species, however, in the text some are headed “n. sp. Schnb.” whereas others are labelled “spec. nov.”. This does not indicate any division of labour: for example, it is not the case that the “spec. nov.” are those accompanied by genitalia figures whilst the “n. sp. Schnb.” are not. In the list of contents and in the legends to the figures, all the new species are attributed to Schnabl alone. The species-group names are thus credited to “Schnabl in Schnabl & Dziedzicki”.]

[This work advertised by the publisher Schulz as being for sale in a prospectus dated 1 September 1830 (Meigen, 1830: unnumbered page [404]). This work has traditionally been given priority over Robineau-Desvoidy (1830): see Aubertin (1932: 141, footnote). However, Evenhuis (1997: 822) established that Robineau-Desvoidy's work was published on 30 June 1830 and therefore has priority over Wiedemann, 1830. He recommended applying to the ICZN Commission to treat Wiedemann, 1830, as published prior to Robineau-Desvoidy, 1830, in order to preserve the stability of the many Diptera names proposed by Wiedemann.]

INDEX

All family-, genus- and species-group names that are currently in Muscidae are indexed here, with species-group names in their current genus. Valid names are in boldface; invalid and unavailable names are in plain Roman. Family-group names are not italicized; genus- and species-group names are italicized. Available and unavailable names have authorship, but misspellings and misidentifications do not.

APPENDIX. Reversal of Precedence Action to Conserve Neodexiopsis Malloch

Although Neodexiopsis Malloch, 1920 is younger than Choetura Macquart, 1851, the latter name has not been used as a valid taxon since 1899. Thus, to conserve usage of Neodexiopsis, we invoke ICZN Code Art. 23.9.2 and declare Choetura Macquart, 1851 a nomen oblitum, and Neodexiopsis Malloch, 1920 as a nomen protectum. The list below are 25 references by 10 workers in the last 50 years who have used Neodexiopsis as a valid taxon.
